"How to Build a Sustainable Business"

David Raby is President and CEO of STI Electronics in Madison, Alabama. He helped found the family company in 1982 in San Dimas, California. The company moved to Madison, Alabama in 1993. Mr. Raby has been its President since 1990 and CEO since 1998.

STI Electronics supplies Training and Training Services, Production Supplies and Equipment, and Engineering Services to the electronics manufacturing industry. STI sells its products and services in all 50 US states and 47 countries. STI has been chosen as one of the fastest growing private companies in the United States by INC Magazine five times, including the last three consecutive years. The company was awarded Global Innovation Awards in 2008 and 2009 by Global SMT Magazine.

Mr. Raby is a graduate of Auburn University in Auburn, Alabama. He has held offices in both the National and the Tennessee Valley Chapters of the Surface Mount Technology Association (SMTA) including two terms as the National President. SMTA is a non-profit organization based in Edina, Minnesota whose mission is for its "...membership to be a network of professionals who build skills, share practical experience and develop solutions in electronic assembly technologies and related business operations."

David Raby also volunteers in a number of community organizations. He has been married to Sheila for 16 years. They have a 14 year old daughter, Ashley.

"All Aboard – Opportunities and Challenges in Talent Management at CSX"

Jennifer Burnett is the AVP of Talent Management and Staffing at CSX Transportation. Prior to joining CSX, she has 20 years in the field of talent management. At CSX her team assists managers in hiring, evaluating, and developing individuals and teams, including providing best practice in performance management, leadership development, succession planning, employee engagement, organizational design, and selection and assessment.

"How to be a Winner in Business"

Mr. Steve Cook leveraged his 19 years as a project manager at the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) into the private sector as Director of Space Technologies at Dynetics in Huntsville, Alabama. His passion for space was, as he says, " ... ignited watching Apollo 17 land on the moon." He has pursued that same interest for the past two years at Dynetics.

Dynetics has delivered high-quality, high-value engineering, scientific, and information technology (IT) solutions to customers within the U.S. government and a range of other market segments since 1974. Its headquarters are in Huntsville, Alabama, and the company has offices throughout the United States. They employ 1300 people, including astronauts. The company specializes in solutions for the toughest technological challenges in the areas of aviation, space, intelligence, missiles and cyber communication and security.

Steve is a 1990 graduate of the University of Minnesota's College of Science and Engineering.
